

12/29/2020

Keepers Fantasy Football XVII Champion – U Don't Know!

U Don't Know Takes Home the Trophy!

Scoreboard:

SUPER BOWL XVII

(1) U Don't Know – 189.62
vs.
(3) Bossman - 139.63

3rd Place game

(5) Rapids Plungers – 127.41
vs.
(2) Big Papa – 113.46

Congratulations to U Don't Know and their coach Nohal Mechelke on their first ever Keepers Fantasy Football championship! U Don't Know has been a part of this league since 2006 but their has been one thing they have yet to be able to figure out and that was getting their first championship trophy! That weight is now lifted off of their shoulders as they not only their first ever championship but it was the way in which they did it that left no doubt who was the best team in this 2020 fantasy football season. U Don't Know saved the best for last as they had their best week of the season by putting up 189.62 points. That is the most points ever scored in a Super Bowl eclipsing the record of 180.70 which was set by Rapids Plungers last season. U Don't Know got MVP type of performances from A. Rodgers (27.89), S. Diggs (39.25) and most surprising of all Mike Evans (41.05). These three players were the keys to leading U Don't Know to the Super Bowl championship. Here are a couple of interesting stats for you. U Don't Know became the 9th #1 overall seed to win the Championship. The #5 overall pick in the draft has won back to back championships! I don't know about you but it seems that #5 pick is the one you want! Bossman had a great season and made it back to the Super Bowl but in their back to back losses they have given up an average of 185.16 points. Can they avenge these last two losses next season?

Rapids Plungers takes down Big Papa for Third Place!

Yes, this is the third place game and at the end of the day the only person with their name on the trophy is those that finish first BUT I will mention that our defending champion (Rapids Plungers) defeated Big Papa for third place. This is now the 2nd year in a row that Big Papa finishes in 4th place. This is a tough league to continue to find success so when you get close you need to take advantage of that however Big Papa has yet to do that. Rapids Plungers finishes the last two seasons at #1 and #3. I think most everyone in the league would take that! Well done by both teams on a solid season!

A note from the commissioner:

Thanks for another great year of Fantasy Football! I feel like I said this last season but it seems the level of engagement this season was one of the best we have seen and maybe it was out of necessity with all of the COVID changes happening each week.

Either way, thanks for making this another great year and you will hear from me again in August.

Happy New Year and enjoy the NFL Playoffs!